

CHICKEN CRATES

The handling of large quantities of processed chickens can be challenging, that is why Richmond offer a heavy duty plastic crate that can carry bulky loads, and securely stack without damaging it's contents. Suitable for line production, transportation, and storage – these crates are built for the tough environment they are subjected to every day. Made from food grade HDPE, these crates can handle temperatures between -10°C and 110°C with ease.

FEATURES

- Crates stack securely
- Base holes for fluid drainage
- Made from food grade HDPE
- Suitable for line production, transportation, and storage, even when full.
